Materializing the Web of Linked Data By Nikolaos Konstantinou, Dimitrios-Emmanuel Spanos

This book explains the Linked Data domain by adopting a bottom-up approach: it introduces the fundamental Semantic Web technologies and building blocks, which are then combined into methodologies and end-to-end examples for publishing datasets as Linked Data, and use cases that harness scholarly information and sensor data. It presents how Linked Data is used for web-scale data integration, information management and search. Special emphasis is given to the publication of Linked Data from relational databases as well as from real-time sensor data streams. The authors also trace the transformation from the document-based World Wide Web into a Web of Data. Materializing the Web of Linked Data is addressed to researchers and professionals studying software technologies, tools and approaches that drive the Linked Data ecosystem, and the Web in general.

Patricia Humes:

As a pupil exactly feel bored in order to reading. If their teacher requested them to go to the library in order to make summary for some e-book, they are complained. Just tiny students that has reading's spirit or real their hobby. They just do what the teacher want, like asked to go to the library. They go to there but nothing reading seriously. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring as well as can't see colorful pictures on there. Yeah, it is for being complicated. Book is very important for you personally. As we know that on this time, many ways to get whatever we want. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore , this Materializing the Web of Linked Data can make you really feel more interested to read.
